Jun Hue

jhue@andrew.cmu.edu | 412-589-7658

Research Interests

Behavioural economics, with a particular emphasis on structural behavioural economics.

Education

Ph.D. in Behavioural Economics, Carnegie Mellon University September 2025–Present
Joint Ph.D. program between the Department of Social and Decision Sciences and the Tepper School of Business.
Advisors: Peter Schwardmann (SDS) and Yucheng Liang (Tepper).

MPhil in Economics, Distinction, University of Oxford September 2023–June 2025

BSocSci (Hons) in Economics and Psychology, Nanyang Technological University August 2019–May 2023
Highest Distinction.

Working Papers

Social Media and the Limits to Selective Attention
With Lukas Bolte and John J. Conlon. SSRN.

Specialisation and the Allocation of Credit: Understanding and Appreciating Others' Work
With Jonathan Yeo.

Presentations

- 2026 BEDI Workshop, University of Pittsburgh — September 2026
- ESA Asia-Pacific (Osaka) — March 2025
- Novel Ideas (MPhil Economics) Seminar, University of Oxford — December 2024
- NTU Economics Brownbag Seminar — October 2024
- Economist Service Research Meeting, Ministry of Trade and Industry, Singapore — September 2024
- Prime Minister's Office (PMO), Singapore — September 2024

Summer Schools

Dynamic Structural Econometrics Summer School, University of Michigan
Participant and tutor, 2026.

Teaching

Teaching assistantships: Behavioural Decision Making; Decision Analysis; Health Policy and Decision Making; and Dynamic Structural Econometrics Summer School.

Awards

President's Research Scholar (NTU); HASS Scholarship (NTU; full tuition and stipend); Mansfield Distinction Degree Prize (University of Oxford).

Languages

English (primary), Chinese, Malay.